Zabonn Michi implant farming

I'm not farming this anymore, so the best I can do is to ruin others' business and/or generate various tears.

tl;dr: Michi's Excavation Augmentor is farmable by getting 6.0 Caldari faction standing, then doing a 5-room level 4 mission.

What to do:

1. Get your Caldari faction standings to 6.0 modified. (Already have? Good, jump to step 2.)

If you train Connections to V, then you'll need 5.0 unmodified. Social V is also recommended to advance fast in the ranks. Tips to raise standings: career agents, data centers (both Caldari and Amarr), circle agents. Remember that the exploration career agent is easily blitzable, as the gas and the first anomaly certificates respawn, you just wait at the can until you have 100s of them. Scan relic and data sites with a dedicated scanner and you're good.

After you have 3.0 modified to Caldari, you can do lvl 3 fw missions, and as you gain fw npc corp standings, you will gain promotions, that will raise quickly your faction standings. You can do the SoE storyline as well, but it takes a lot of time.

2. Zabonn Michi is in Otomainen, in space, at the Rush Town Ruins.

3. Part 1 of the mission: give Manchura's Logs to Zabonn Michi. You can get that from contracts usually, or you can farm it from the first room of the Contested Guristas Outpost in Otomainen.

4. Part 2: you need to complete a 5-room level 4 mission. I never did level 4's so I can't compare it to other types, but I completed this with a regular Machariel, and later I switched to a Tengu. At the 5th room, you kill the NPC Wei Todaki, and loot her from the can.

5. Part 3: give Wei Todaki to Michi. After this, in part 3 he will give her back, asking you to bring her to a lowsec station nearby (about 5 jumps). After you arrive the station, you turn in the mission and get the implant, plus also a storyline cloak.

Isk/h and other stuff: mission time was about an hour iirc. Raising the standings takes time with fw, usually 1 hour per mission cycle. I had the career agents and the alike bookmarked, and did it with multiple alts on autopilot.

much easier, usually I went with only that.

Happy googling and optimizing! :)

Also enjoy your wei todaki being stolen from you so you'll need to pay ransom for it and as for 1008 imp enjoy bugged tower with 1h respawn rate being farmed by local nolifers with timers set up right before it should respawn (:

Watch dscan for combat probes?

You know that you can remember where you placed your probes last time so you can place them to the same spot so you can insta scan down the guy when he'll return to the spot, right? And this makes you stay docked till scanner leave the system

Cloaked

There is also a level 1 agent in Gallente COSMOS that rewards you with a +5% shield HP hardwiring implant (or at least that is what I got. Most likely random 5% hardwiring implant).

Since this is a level 1 agent you don't need any standings at all.

The agent is located at Parchanier planet VI moon 5 (unmarked location).

The first mission is to get an item that drops from belt rats in the constellation (buy from contracts).

The second mission (this gives the implant) sends you to retrieve one item from a semi-public mission location. Easy few frigates, cruisers and one BS.

I tried running this mission in an alpha account and that last BS is too much for an alpha Origin.

Is this that mission that routes through lowsec to a highsec pocket? And people camp the hell out of the lowsec route because they know people are doing this mission?

There is one lowsec system in the way, Ihakana.

Also, cloaky Tengus exist.

almost like a cloak interdiction nullified tengu doesn't exist. or a Yacht.

Girls Lie But Zkill Doesn't

No need for nullification in lowsec, go with agility subsystem.

Caldari State

As long as you don't come in straight through the friggi gate you are probably safe. If you go through the Otitoh gate you are safe almost every time and it's only one extra jump. almost all the traffic in that system goes through either the friggi or otomainen gate, and given they are also on top of each other they are the easiest ones to camp.

lived there for a while. IDLE is still #1 in the system and last kill was 2012 on zkill (very possible other kills were lost with KB shuffles). Never could be bothered to do those missions either, and I have multiple characters with the standings.

1.5b implant for 1 hour mission + hours of grinding standing? No, thank you. Even with 3b HG-1008 implant it isn't really good

Stay Frosty.

If someone already has the standings (like probably most Caldari mission runners or FW militias already have) it's 1.5b/hr, which is actually really good money... until the price drops after this post at least.

Escalating Entropy

It's a one time mission, so you need to grind standings each and every time.

You can multibox the standing grinder alts as I did, but anyways, for some people it could be better than their current occupation.

moreover, you don't even need to be in the same system or undocked or anything to get standing increases from fw missions - just need to be in fleet and have the mission runner click share rewards

Yeah you make caldari FW plexing alts. You can use unfit ships (maybe with some stabs if you want) to run highly contested caldari FW systems down. You gain LP and standings along the way, once you have standings for level 3's run those and then eventually level 4's as they give the largest standings increase. Pop the mission with alt in shuttle and then have your main run it. Ranking up in caldari FW also gives a boost to Amarr empire. If you really want to game it you can then switch the alt to amarr FW and run plexes/missions there to rank up. I have a 9.0+ standing with amarr empire after hitting max rank in both calmil and amarr mil. You make isk plexing/missioning and get a nice bonus once you have standings. Once you run the cosmos biomass the alt rinse and repeat.

IDK if there are any decent bonuses for having that standing with amarr for cosmos other than akkemon who is in caldari space. (Also, lots of bots/no lifers camp the structure that spawns after downtime and one hour after it pops (so only spawns twice a day due to bug) so be prepared to loot fast or bring like 10 friends with catalysts to suicide gank their gilas XD)

Here is a caldari cosmos guide I used back in the day. If you have high caldari state standing there is pretty much free raven navy, caracal navy, and hookbill BPCs as well.

<https://www.scribd.com/doc/16401872/Cosmos-Missions-101>

Edit: Most people in Caldari FW don't do this. But they should! Really nice isk and helps with warzone control :)

I checked the fw plexing route, but it needs much more maintenance than the data center/etc route until 3.0, or I was doing something wrong. :)

Also, I would not biomass, as for example last christmas the CCP gifts were given to them too :)

Is the mission repeatable and if so, what is the timeframe? Is it like the cooldown for the epic arcs or the one-time per toon missions in the booster constellations?

One time per character, so you farm it with alts, or do it as a bonus for your main.

You got any lists of where/what drops COSMOS fluff/aesthetics cargo items? I'm trying to put together a list so i can have quality rp lossmails

I did this only for profit, so I have only notes for the valuable missions. But I think some lists can be googled, I've seen a few.
